

COPYRIGHT 1908

The "Merry Widow" Hats.

LENGTH, 566 FEET.

Two young ladies having an appointment with their best fellows don their latest millinery creation "The Merry Widow Hats." When the young men arrive and see the new head-gear they lose their balance and tumble down the stairs.

They go to a dance where the Merry Widow Hats cause more trouble. They are ejected from a Moving Picture place where the Merry Widow Hats obstruct the views, and cause a panic in the street cars. The Merry Widow Hats do not appeal to father who decides to supply hats of his own selection to the great consternation of the two young ladies.

MANUFACTURER OF

Life Motion Picture Machines, Films, Slides and Stereopticons.

Lubin Building, 926-928 Market St., Phila., Pa.

1000. 6-08

NO 54